boost.ai Roadmap

High-level overview

product vision, strategy and roadmap

There will be a complete shift in how people interact with technology at every level - and that will be through conversations. It will influence everything we do from shopping, to entertainment, to music, to travel, to education - and will impact how every Enterprise business is built and run.

It will shift how whole societies communicate, and the relationship and interface that everyone has with technology - across every channel we use today, and those just around the corner.

The future isn't about automation - it's about conversations and creating and guiding the operating layer of a more intuitive, human-centered digital world.

Our future is built on meaningful outcomes

The boost.ai Product Strategy

Simplifying complexity

As the technical capabilities grow more complex, our focus must stay on simplicity - in ideas, user experience, delivery and deployment - to ensure success can truly scale.

Right level of Control

Control is the foundation to all future success in CAI AI - especially for Enterprises in regulated industries. As Generative AI evolves daily, we remain relentless in pushing boundaries of what trusted, controllable AI can do.

Security & Safety first

Every idea we bring to life starts with a simple, non-negotiable commitment: security and safety first. This is not just a technical requirement — it's the foundation of every product & every relationship we build.

Roadmap Focus Areas

Voice and multimodality

How do we deliver excellent voice and multi-modal experiences?

Agentic capabilities

How do enable more free flowing agentic conversations with less setup required?

Platform adoption

How do we streamline customer adoption and management of an AI agent?

Enterprise scalability

How do we make the platform scalable for large, complex enterprises?

And how do we do all this while still providing the confidence that regulated enterprises expect?

AGENT ORCHESTRATION [BETA] (12.7 - Q1)

The foundation for scalable, agentic customer experiences

Agent Orchestration uses generative AI to dynamically route conversations to the right specialized agent based on context - not fixed rules.

This enables more natural, scalable, and resilient customer experiences across digital channels and voice, even as conversations grow more complex.
